“ Deeply saddened to hear that Betty has died. She was a wonderful woman, generous and kind. I can't visualize her without seeing her welcoming smile. Her legacy of participation in the community and as a loving parent serves as a goal to guide all of us who were lucky enough to know her.

She and Don were great neighbors to my grandparents, Virgil and Ruth Kennedy, for many years. She and my mother, Rogene Hayen Smith, were longtime friends. Her eldest daughter, Donna, and I were close friends while growing up.

One fond memory that I have: My mom went camping with my younger sister's Girl Scout troop when I was about 16. I was supposed to take care of the produce from our garden; freeze corn, snap the green beans and make sweet pickles. I was having some concerns about the pickles. I was afraid that they might be bad. So I called Betty. She listened patiently and chuckled. Then told me that I was doing just fine.

Peace be with all of you in her family. Cheryl Hayen Bradley
