“ It was such an honor to have been able to care for Conon. I loved walking past his room over and over when he was well just to see his little hand wave out the hallway. To have left as large of an impact on this world that Conon was able to do in such a short time is nothing short of amazing.
Praying for your pace and healing for your family,

“ My brother Scot has kept me informed about Conan and his fight. My prayers for him and your family in this time of sorrow. It is the children who truly show how to live for they live every moment to its fullest with no regret and hesitation. God Bless and know that this place we call home is truly better for having a bright soul like his among us even if it was for such a short while.

“ What a sweet boy! I am so sorry for your loss, please know I am thinking of all you. The last time I saw Conon he was full of energy and being a typical kid trying to get his way with his mother. When she would not give in to hm he threw a fit. It was amusing watching them. Christine what a loving mother you are to those boys. I pray you will find peace.
