

Cynthia Dawn Phillips

April 20, 1956 - January 4, 2023

Cynthia (Cindy) Dawn Phillips, age 66 of Brookfield, passed away Wednesday, January 4, 2023 at University Hospital in Columbia, Mo with her family by her side.

Cindy was born on the coolest day of the year, April 20, 1956 to Charles and Kathryn (Harter) Phillips. Despite losing her mother at a very young age, Cindy had amazing sisters and brother in laws to help her along the way. Cindy was feisty in her own special way. She was caring, thoughtful, and had a heart of gold. She was also very stubborn, hard headed, independent, and not afraid to tell you how it is. Cindy was someone you could pour your heart out to, she'd give honest advice without sugar coating anything, and never made you feel judged. She would keep any secret, and I'm sure a few of you are happy to know she took yours to her grave.

Cindy was always up for an adventure and a good time. She loved her kids almost as much as she loved her stuff, especially her plants. If you had the pleasure of hanging out at her house, you knew you better take your shoes off and use a coaster. During the summer, especially in her younger days you could always find her outside getting a tan and making sure her yard looked pretty, with a well-stocked supply of popsicles for the kids.

Cindy was a great friend, sister, mother, and grandmother. She loved and cherished each bond she had throughout the years and had a good story about everyone she was associated with.

Survivors include her daughters Misty Green and Hannah Singleton-

Brookfield, granddaughters Alex Taylor-Branson, and Madisyn Taylor-St Joe, grandson Dayten Glasgow- Brookfield. Cindy is also survived by three sisters, two brothers, and countless other family members and a few very close friends.

Cindy was preceded in death by her parents, brother Jim Phillips, sister Rita Gardner, nephew Ty Sackrey, brother in law and close friend, Chuck Drummond, as well as numerous family members and friends.

For 54 years you have been my friend. But it was always more than a friendship between you and I. We was able to cry our eyes out on one another shoulders even more so than with our kin. You needed someone to protect you, and I came up to the plate. Even if it met going to jail. Not just once but over and over again. I was always there for you and you were for me. You kept my secrets, and I kept yours, I seen how you respond when some spilled your trust, just like I would done. I have loved you and I still love you and I always will love you. Of all the friends I had, there was one other that shared the pedestal with you, Ricky Holloway. I lost him in 74 but I never lost you I can't help from recalling the night that you come knocking on my door at 2:30 AM. Man I was mad getting woke up. But it was you, crying and ask me to get him out of our house he was tearing it up. So I step out and we headed there in the middle of intersection of N.Livingston and North and you said, ED don't you think you need to get some clothes on. I slept in the nude an I was excited. OPPS. Boy that would have scared him.
