“Diane moved to Laclede, when we were in Jr high. She became my best friend. We did so many fun things. I truly loved her. We drifted apart as our lives became busy with husband's & having children. I moved away. I always looked her up at class reunion time and sometimes convinced her to attend. This past fall I did not make contact with her at our reunion. My heart will always be broken because of that. I'm so sorry, Diane. Condolences to her son & grandchildren.”

I knew Joyce as Diane. Diane was always there to offer help, give advice and recommend a solution to every problem that work, or life seemed to throw at us. This is what I remember about her most of all. We would always talk things through to find a solution. Then we would have a real good laugh at the end about the whole thing. Bob Rorah
