“ Karen and I became friends working at Cabrook/ Dura together. I was at her house one evening we were working on Christmas Items, we ended up going back to my house which was 25 miles away to get something, I was staying with her for a garage sale in the morning , then we realize we didn't have much gas and no gas stations around for 25 miles, so here I am running and sneaking to our shed and grabbing gas can hoping there was some in it, thank god we made it back like 1 in the morning since we were having a garage sale. It was funny though with us freaking out about not being there for our sale, my hubby didn't even know we were there at the time, R.I.P my friend
