“ I miss my mama so much. Her Joy in things that other people don't normally notice. Her love for the strangest animals like a rat that someone left behind in a apt. she was always taking in people and animals. alike. But her sometimes think that she enjoyed the animals far more than the people. LOL I really wish I knew where her ashes were so my sisters and I can take them fishing and out on the boat and release them. If anyone knows where they are I would appreciate any information I can get.
